Recommendation letter

Our company, MLP, owns and manages over 1.7 million square meters of space. It meant much work with data - we manually entered information on all our facilities and tenants, and Excel spreadsheets became an absolute nightmare.

We have been working with the UWINDI marketing agency for several years, so when we had an idea to systematize the work with data on tenants of our warehouse facilities, we turned to the agency to create a suitable web application for this task.

The agency team started the project by interviewing users of the new application and analyzing and systematizing requirements. Then a detailed technical specification was developed, considering all the needs and peculiarities of our business. After that, the team of UWINDI developed interfaces and performed a block of work on programming the web application.

Today, the web application continues to develop alongside our business, incorporating new functions and streamlining procedures to support efficient operations. We can now spend less time on data entry and analysis because of the developed web platform. The web application also has an interactive map of each building with a marker for the space occupied by each tenant. Managers of MLPs receive all the data required to monitor an area, tenant, and rental status.

We suggest UWINDI as a group of professionals in web application development and business process automation for business tasks.
